

Class diagram before implementing the changes

Our proposed change is the addition of a new feature that lets admins list all of the students and their registered courses information. We had to reverse-engineer the functionality of a similar feature in order to implement this feature. That similar feature is the ability of admins to list all of the instructors and their details. Figure 1 shows the class diagram of this feature

Class diagram after implementing the changes

Figure 2 shows the classes that were added and used while adding our proposed feature.

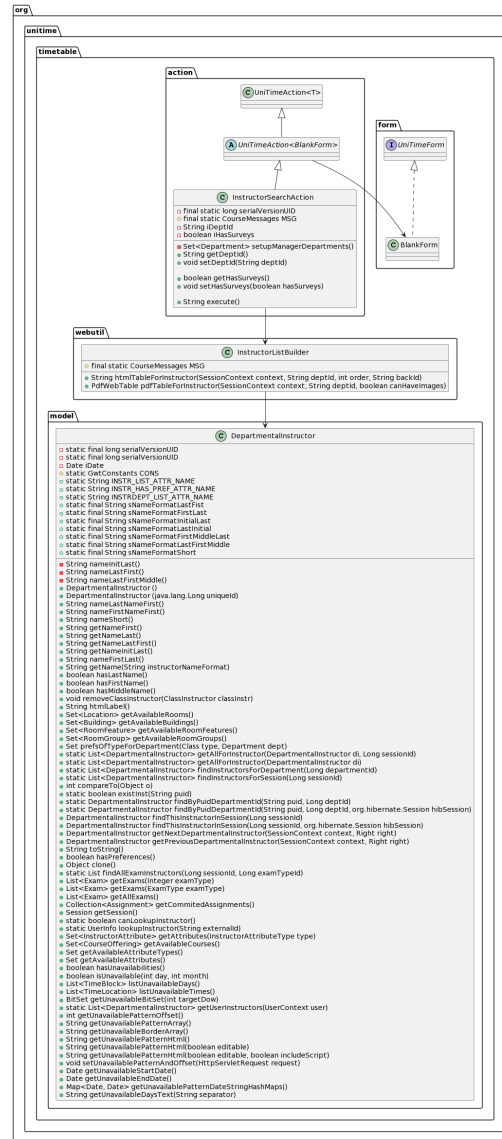

Figure 1: Class diagram for a similar functionality

